ADD-ONS

You can customize a project model by selecting add-on services for additional fees. The list below is not comprehensive and ADVANCE Custom Publishing will work with you to tailor project models to your individual needs.

SERIES

You can produce a multi-part series of advertorials appearing in consecutive issues of the parent publication.

ELECTRONIC

PDF Distribution

You receive a complimentary, limited-view (100 views), encrypted PDF of all print materials, with the exception of advertorials and client-owned projects. For an additional fee, you may receive an encrypted PDF allowing 12,000 views. The encrypted PDF is for electronic distribution only. Client-owned newsletters may be hosted on a client web site.

Mass Email Distribution

At your request, ADVANCE Custom Publishing will send an e-blast to the full or partial readership. The e-blast can contain the entire or partial content of your custom project. It may also contain a hyperlink to the full text in PDF or html format on an ADVANCE or client-hosted web site.

Web Site Distribution

Custom projects associated with an ADVANCE publication may be posted as html or a PDF on the publication's web site.

OVERRUNS/REPRINTS

ADVANCE Custom Publishing is responsible for all print and CD/DVD production. Overruns are produced at the time the original project is produced. Any additional production after the initial run is considered a reprint and will be higher in cost.

If a newsletter's primary distribution is electronic, you may choose to have ADVANCE Custom Publishing produce print copies for distribution at major meetings or for your sales reps.

TRANSLATIONS

If you have international markets, you may choose to have projects translated. Content of translated projects will not be different from the original, however when purchasing a single-sponsored preparation guide, you may customize content for international attendees (i.e., including customs information, tipping guide, common English phrases, etc.). For print projects, ADVANCE Custom Publishing will arrange mailing to your international distribution points, passing the cost of shipping/handling on to you.

For single-sponsored meeting highlights projects, you can have multiple issues available. Each issue covers the previous day's events and would be available at your booth or updated daily on the highlights web site.

EXCLUSIVITY

Only one supplement will appear with any ADVANCE Newsmagazines publication issue. ADVANCE Custom Publishing schedules supplements so that similar topics do not appear in consecutive issues. If you are doing a supplement project, you can request that no other outsourced material appears with your supplement. Single-sponsored newsletter clients may elect to purchase exclusivity for their topic. Advertorial clients can request to be the only advertorial appearing in a particular issue. Talk to your representative for more information on exclusivity options with ADVANCE Custom Publishing.

Included in the price for some custom publishing projects is a 1/4-page preview ad in the parent publication. (Preview ads are not available for advertorials, white papers, shared content projects and client-owned projects.) The preview ad will contain the cover image of your printed project or another graphic, 1-2 sentences describing the content and a "sponsored by" line. It will appear in the issue preceding the appearance of the custom project.
